

FREE WORKSHOP

Recycling Abandoned Gas Stations

WHAT: A free workshop where you will learn:

- The potential for redevelopment of abandoned gas stations or other properties with petroleum-based contamination
- How to obtain grant money
- How others have revitalized similar properties
- Successful marketing strategies
- Local hands-on problem solving
- How to get the regulatory help you need

WHO: Economic developers, environmental consultants, city managers, state and federal regulators, non-profit agencies and other stakeholders are invited to attend

WHEN: October 27, 2004, 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

WHERE: The State Office Building Auditorium, Capitol Hill, Salt Lake City, Utah

LIMITED SPACE AVAILABLE - REGISTER TODAY

For more information, visit www.undergroundtanks.utah.gov

Sponsored by the Utah Department of Environmental Quality and the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency

